I. COURT

Competency To Stand Trial

I. Assessment

In most counties, regional centers are required to provide assessments for competency to stand trial. In Los Angeles County, assessment of competency to stand trial is performed by court appointed psychologists and psychiatrists who appear on a list entitled “Approved Panel of Psychiatrists & Psychologists,” which can be found at:

Legal Defense-Public Defenders

California provides defense attorneys through the county Public Defender offices free of charge for those who cannot afford a private attorney. The appropriate area office may be contacted to identify a public defender or to request that a public defender be assigned. When more than one defendant is charged in a crime an Alternate Public Defender may be assigned and may be contacted through the local public defender's office.
